

WASHINGTON (November 10) - To view a Fox News interview with Congressman Spencer Bachus (AL-6) on his bill to suspend the compensation packages of top executives at Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, click here.

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac are government sponsored housing enterprises that have received more than $170 billion in taxpayer-provided bailout funding since entering into Federal conservatorships in September 2008.

The House Financial Services Committee, which Bachus chairs, will consider his legislation to suspend the pay packages during a meeting on Tuesday.
